DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-15 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-39 of U.S. Patent No. 6615935. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of 6,615,935 fully encompass the claims of the instant application and it would have been considered obvious to eliminate the pressurizing limitation from the claims of 6,615,935. Also, the claims of 6,615,935 do not specifically set forth attaching the portion by brazing. It would have been considered an obvious to attach the wear resistant material by brazing. Applicant has amended the claims to more clearly set forth that a steel tooth has a wear resistant end portion having the specific claimed properties. Claim 36 of 6,615,935 sets forth that the wear resistant material is in the form of a cap placed on the end of the steel tooth. This is seen to clearly meet the limitations of a solid end formed from the specific wear resistant material.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/23/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has amended the claims to set forth that the wear resistant portion is an end attached to the steel tooth. Applicant argues that this feature distinguishes over 6,615,935. Looking at claim 36 of 6,615,935, this claim sets forth that the wear resistant surface is in the form of a cap that covers an end portion of the steel tooth. This limitation is seen to clearly meet the limitation of a solid end portion attached to the steel tooth.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
